

STAND-UP 2011-EVENT INFORMATION

WHAT: STAND-UP 2011 has been created to educate, motivate and empower young people to actively promote positive social change in their schools and communities. This December, thousands of middle and high school students and teachers from across Massachusetts will come together at Northeastern University in Boston for a one-day program to take a stand against all forms of bullying.

The Stand Up 2011 program is being developed in partnership with renowned bullying prevention authorities to ensure the most effective messaging and call to action for the students and their educators. Stand Up 2011 will utilize a combination of educational information, entertainment and celebrities to motivate students to stand up to bullying in their communities and schools.

WHEN: Tuesday, December 13, 2011
8:00 AM Registration
9:00 AM Program Begins
1:00 PM Program Concludes

ADMISSION IS FREE. SPACE IS LIMITED.
REGISTER TODAY AT www.standup2011.org.

WHERE: Matthews Arena
Northeastern University
Boston, MA 02115

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS:

Student “Town Hall Meeting”

The program will present an “on-stage” discussion on the issue of bullying featuring a diverse group of students all impacted by some aspect of bullying. The student audience will be encouraged to participate in the discussion.

Stand-Up Awards

Five special recognition awards will be given for innovative programs developed by schools/students dealing with bullying. The awards will be presented to the students by local celebrities. To nominate a school or program please visit our web site www.standup2011.org.

Exhibition Area of Innovative Programs

An area within the arena will be established for schools and students to showcase their programs and initiatives that deal with bullying. Schools from throughout Massachusetts with unique and successful programs will be invited to share their programs with interested students and teachers. This area will enable attendees to collect information and learn about many promising practices that are being employed to address bullying in schools around the Commonwealth.

REGISTRATION INFORMATION:

We invite you and your students to join us on Tuesday, December 13th. ADMISSION IS FREE. SPACE IS LIMITED.
